Very Important, Novel as the idea may be to our read ers and disastrously as it may effect the sterests of the Territory, it is nevertheless rese, that we have no provision of the Legis lature for a succession of the low-making ocer. The Council holds over for another ear but the lower house is elected for a single year, and no law was enacted at the last, or any former session of the Legislature, providing for another election We are in a state of chaos, so far as futurlegislation is concerned. Those who are disposed to controvert our statement in this particular, will open to the organiat Section 22 provides that, at the FIRST election, the Governor shall take a census, and apportion the representation among the different counties, according to the population; "but thereafter, the time, place, and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and be apportioning the representation in the everal counties or districts, to the Cour el and House of Representatives, according to the number of qualified voters, dall be prescribed by lane, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular sessions of the Legislative Assembly." Gov. REEDER, agreeably to that provision of the Organic Act, caused a census to be taken in February of 1855, and immediately after made the apportionment, and ordered the election of the 30th of March. The Legislature thus elected, was conrened at Pawnee on the 2d of July, 1855. and afterwards adjourned to the Shawner Manual Labor School, where they closed their session. Before adjourning, they made provision for another session of their own number, which met at Lecompton or the first Monday of January, 1856. At that session, by act of February 20, '56, they passed "An act to define and establish the Council and Representative Districts for the SECOND Legislative Assembly," which may be found on pages 65, 66 and 67 of the laws of that session .-Throughout that act, provision is only made for an apportionment for "the first session of the second Legislative Assem bly of the Territory," else for "the next Legislative Assembly." No provision is made for any subsequent apportionment, or for another election of members than the one which met in Lecompton last winter, and closed their labors in Lawrence,

In conclusion, we feel disposed to add, that the pro-slavery Legislature, no doubt, purposely neglected to make provisions for a future session, hoping, thereby, a necessity would occur for adopting and reason already given, and stimulated still We are tired and disgusted with this obedient servant, faction legislation. During the last week, information has een communicated to us of an extensive rganization, extending all over Kansas, and into Iowa, the estensible object of which is to retort upon the people of Missouri for past interference in Kansas affairs, but the real object of which is to ob and plunder without discrimination. All last summer these wretches swarmed round Lawrence, hoping for the renewal of disturbances, that they might enrich hemselves at other people's expense. We aw them, and knew them. They were professedly radical in their anti-slavery views, and towards conservatives were exremely bitter and denunciatory. These nen served as tools of certain politicians, and always visited any part of the Terriory, as they were bidden, frequently gong out on foot, and returning on a fine orse. These things were seen and renarked a year ago, and because we stated he fact through our journal, the demons of the infernal regions could not have been more violent than were some of these men. We were threatened with assassination, and every speices of violence, and newssaper journalists in Kansas, and in the states, took pleasure in waging a war of -xtermination upon us.
